

ANALYZING A CREDIT REPORT & SCORE

STUDENT SIMULATION WORKSHEET

Name(s): _____

Directions: To complete this activity, you'll be in Overview, Transactions and Credit Score tabs. The final question will take you out of Mint to TransUnion's website.

PART 1: OVERVIEW & TRANSACTIONS

Scott is currently in debt. From the Overview tab, we see the total debt owed on each account. Then, switching to the Transactions tab, we can look for his most recent payment for each.

		TOTAL	RECENT MONTHLY PAYMENT
1. Scott's Auto Loan	$	Balance varies depending on month.	$ 280.00
2. Scott's College Loan	$	Auto is over $5k, College is over $20k,	$ 205.00
3. Scott's Credit Card	$	Credit Card is usually 1k - 2k.	$ varies. sometimes Scott pays minimum, sometimes he pays more

Scott was recently charged a late payment fee for one of his debt accounts.

4. What is the amount? $30.00

PART 2: CREDIT REPORT

Scott's credit score is shown at the top, followed by the factors that make up the score.

5. What is Scott's credit score? 641

6. Scott's overall credit score is considered:
 Excellent Very Good Good Fair Poor

7. Scrolling down, list the six (6) factors that impact Scott's credit score. Then, put a checkmark next to the two that are considered "high impact" on Scott's score.

On-Time Payments	X	Credit Usage	X	Average Age
Total Accounts		Credit Inquiries		Derogatory Remarks

Look at the On-Time Payments section of the Credit Score tab.

8. What is Scott's ranking on this area?
 Excellent Very Good Good Not Bad Poor

In the On-Time Payments section, click on "View Details" to see Scott's entire payment history.

9. What percent of payments has Scott made on time? 92 %

10. How many late payments has Scott had on all his Mil Star account? 6

Look at the Credit Usage section of the Credit Score tab.

11. What percent of Scott's total credit available is he using? %
12. A year ago Scott was using 50% of his credit and had a lower score. Therefore, do we learn from Scott and Mint that it is better to:
- Use as much of your credit limit as you can and/or max out your cards Use as little of your credit limit as possible and/or apply for increased credit limits

Look at the Average Age of Credit section of the Credit Score tab.

13. What is the average age of Scott's credit? years
14. According to Mint, lenders prefer people who have a history of established credit.

Look at the Your Total Accounts section of the Credit Score tab.

15. How many total accounts does Scott have?
16. Having this number of accounts gives Scott a poor rating. That implies that a good score is earned by having: Very few accounts Many accounts: loans and credit cards.

Look at the Your Credit Inquiries section of the Credit Score tab.

17. How many total inquiries does Scott have?
18. Click on details of Credit Inquiries. Scott's inquiries came in 2017 when he went was looking to get a loan for:
- College A House A Car A Credit Card
19. According to Mint, inquiries come when Scott for credit.
20. Credit Inquiries are: Improve your score Have an negative effect on your score

For the last set of questions, look at the disclaimer at the bottom of the page.

21. What is TransUnion? Also, how often is someone entitled to a complete free credit report?

Major credit reporting agency.
1 time per year from each agency